CAMP:2001

lee abbey | august | ages 13-18

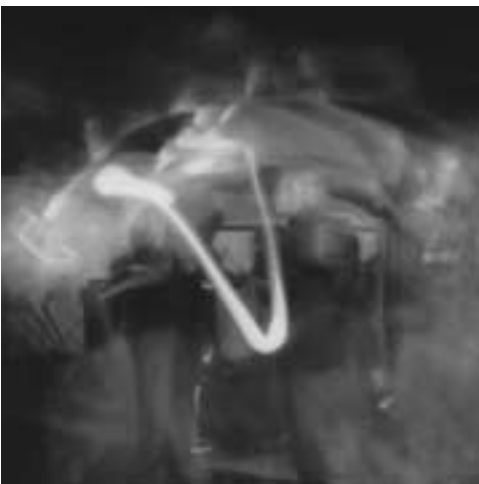

Lee Abbey Camp 2001 is guaranteed to be one holiday you will never forget. There will be great food, hot showers, a fantastic bunch of people and solid sunshine. Camping next to the sea in the amazing North Devon countryside, you'll meet new friends, do some sports, do some arts, swim in the sea, head off to take part in activities (gokarting, paintballing, bowling...) or just kick back, soak up the sun and take it easy.

You'll have the chance to explore what God means to you and to the world—in a place where it's okay to ask hard questions, to argue, to challenge and to be challenged. In the evenings you'll find worship with a different atmosphere, exploring music, prayer and drama: You, God and everyone.

Camping with loads of other people aged 13-18, you'll meet people you can have a laugh with, people you can share a cream tea with, people you can chat to about life, the world, and God. Whether you come to Lee Abbey Camp on your own or with others, you're sure to make great friends: You'll be sad to say goodbye at the end of the week but you'll remember them all year round.

So, if you're aged 13-18 then fill in the booking form and ask somebody for the £120 it's going to cost you.
